

MAMMOTH THEATRE

WILLIAM DESMOND IN TRIANGLE PLAY "DEUCE DUNCAN"

"DEUCE DUNCAN"
William Desmond is Western Bida for One Day, Beginning Saturday, August 10th.
The MAMMOTH THEATRE is fortunate in being able to present the versatile Triangle star, William Desmond, in "Deuce Duncan" on Saturday night.

"Deuce Duncan" offers Mr. Desmond a role of unusual interest. He portrays the character of a daredevil cowpuncher who fears neither God, man nor devil. The little barmaid of the "Half Acre of Hell" saloon who has her heart and she turns his gaze to good purpose.

A value element in this picture is that in which the cowpunchers of the U.S. reach across their cattle in order to locate cowpunchers. Immense value through some terrific battles in this picture.

In the cast supporting him are Lucita Martin, Ed Brady, George Foid, William Hittmford and Joe Blagden.

"Outcast of Poker Flat"

Matinee Wednesday at 2:00 p. m.

A few combinations of modern art and logical activity will participate in the first showing in this city of "The Outcasts of Poker Flat" at the MAMMOTH THEATRE, Wednesday. True they will participate in spirit and will show only, but a picture need not be present in the flesh to perform a certain function or create a wonderful bit of art. This combination surely includes the master work of the talented author, Bret Harte, whose "Outcasts of Poker Flat" in book form has shown brilliantly throughout these many years and now that it has been filmed will live forever. Added to this is the activity of the famous star, Harry Carey, who depicts the role of John Oakhurst, the honest gambler in the story.

Bret Harte used to say "the criticism of a book of fiction is my story that I never put there." From his reports the presentation of "Outcasts of Poker Flat" required additional scenes and atmosphere that, to be sure, Harte "never put there," but if the great author were alive today the producers feel certain that he would be likely to add the scenes taken with his brain child by scenario writer H. T. Tipton, book and director Jack Ford.

As seen on the screen of the MAMMOTH THEATRE "The Outcasts of Poker Flat" is said to be a masterpiece. Harry Carey, the first man of the real masculine type that he is, would hardly stand for a better part than that of John Oakhurst and he doubtlessly has taken advantage of this superior role. In the supporting cast are Lucita Martin, George Foid, Joe Harris, Victor Ford, J. Paul McDonald, J. Wheeler, Ed. O'Brien, Bill Haden, Virginia Chester and Leslie Lester.
